Dear Ed,

I was pleased to receive your letters of the 12th and 16th and to learn of your present duties and future plans. With respect to a possible visit, I would like to make some suggestions. It does not seem feasible at this time for you to travel a great distance to (see our mutual friend). Nonetheless, it would be desirable to have a Monday morning quarterback session.

With regard to your most recent letter, I would like to see you for several days 4 through 8 September inclusively. With this in mind, would it be possible for you to fly from your home on the night of 3 September in order to permit us to make the maximum utilization of time. Upon a favourable reply from you I shall forward the necessary amount soonest to your present address. Mindful of the heavy travel on the Labour Day weekend, it would be best for you to make your reservation locally. I shall defer any discussion of your letters until such time as we see one another. Once more the President's "fitness program" has a demand on your time should anyone inquire.

With continued success in your work and kindest best regards,
I remain,

Yours truly,
